Description
Take your little environmentalist to a new media-friendly audition for Whole Earth Generation, an original online series of ten minute shows created for kids by kids to raise awareness for the environment. Kids tell the eco-friendly judges their plans to green their family, school, neighborhood, etc. The winner will get to host an episode of the weekly series. You're never too young for those fifteen minutes of fame. Ages 8 to 17.

When
Mar 15 10am.
