Sheryl Crow designs her own bag

Sheryl Crow is always up to something -- besides music and motherhood, of course.

Now, the eco-conscious singer has teamed up with Whole Foods Market to launch its first designer exclusive -- a reusable shopping bag designed by Crow. Available in stores starting today, the special edition design of Whole Foods Market's signature "A Better Bag" is made from 80% post-consumer plastic bottles, costs under $1 and features an artist's rendering of a tree with the words "i love my home planet earth," written by Sheryl and woven into the design.
